In line with the large demand for middle and upper level education, the foundation developed its units by opening a Junior High School (SMP) in 2011 and a Senior High School (SMA) in 2012.

Apart from that, Nur isan also has international Classes and of course uses the international curriculum. In the International class, children are able to use Arabic and English fluently. And of course because international classes are guided by very professional and extraordinary teachers. Apart from extraordinary teachers, international classes are also equipped with facilities and infrastructure, both for the students and for the teachers.

Nur Ihsan Islamic Full Day School in 2016 conducted a Comparative Study to Malaysia, Singapore, and Malacca, The purpose of this activity was to see the extent of Nur ihsan children's ability to communicate in the outside world. And can increase children's knowledge about schools abroad, both from learning activities and interactions between Nur Ihsan children and children abroad.

In the learning method, Nur Ihsan Islamic Full Day School uses the PBL method (in the K-13 Curriculum) and the Fun Learning learning method. With these two learning methods, students become more active, so that the learning process does not focus on the teacher alone but on the students, and the teacher is only a facilitator.

At Nur Ihsan Islamic Full Day School, there is no ranking system, but is guided by Multiple Intelligence Research (MIR), meaning that basically all children are champions, and the intelligence of students is different and is not based on cognitive intelligence alone, but also affective and psychomotor intelligence. Extracurricular activities at Nur Ihsan Islamic Full Day School are very numerous, because the talents of its students are also diverse.
